

Is your water safe?

You and your patients can't afford to be the 31%.

So let's do everything we can to get you to pass.

In the largest dental water treatment efficacy study ever done, 31% of treated waterlines in practices failed to meet the CDC standard for safe dental unit water (≤ 500 CFU/mL)*. Regardless of a treatment's promise, unless it performs in the real world, what's the point? Make sure your practice is using a proven waterline maintenance protocol with regular shocking, continuous treatment, and quarterly testing.
